A year ago last November Mrs. Knight was prostrated by a paralytic shock, which rendered her almost helpless, and she had, being given every attention that affection could suggest and skilled nursing provide. The end of life might have been looked for at any time, but she was so long and though expected, at the last it brought the sense of sudden bereavement inseparable from the leave-taking with those held dear to her. She was born in Rockport, Waterville 85 years ago, marrying Mr. Knight, a native of Unity, when she was 20 years old. They came to Rockport in 1854, Mr. Knight dying in 1861. Letter From Washington

What the Maine Delegation is doing for the shipping interest. Governor Burleigh and the Omnibus Public Building Bill.

(Correspondence of The Journal.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23rd. There has been a good quota of shipping talk lately in Washington, that should interest more or less the skipper along the Maine coast. The pilotage bill, which Representative Littlefield introduced several years ago and which has become an old friend in Maine as well as in Washington, is to the fore again.

The Southern lobbyists, representing the Southern pilots, have made their appearance anew in the corridors of the House. Thus far the Maine owners of sailing vessels, who want the Southern pilotage laws displaced, have succeeded in getting the bill introduced. They have succeeded in getting the bill introduced in the hands of Representative Littlefield and his Maine colleague, Mr. Burleigh.

Mr. Burleigh is being thrashed by the committee, but the pilotage bill is still in the House. It is a report before long. It will be a long day before the sailing craft can elect whether to go into Norfolk, or Savannah, or some other Southern port, or without a pilot.

Some of the late have also been thrashed by the committee. The Pine Tree delegation, in the House, as a matter of fact, is being thrashed by the committee.

We could not afford to do this if we didn't have all the confidence in the world in Uric-O, and know that after you have tried it you would have no doubts about recommending the remedy to all your friends and acquaintances who are suffering from Rheumatism. This is the method that has made Uric-O famous wherever introduced. The cure of several so-called Rheumatic Incurables to a community means a steady sale of Uric-O in that vicinity. Uric-O is good for Rheumatism and Rheumatism only. It acts upon the blood by driving the uric and poisonous rheumatic acid from the system. This is the only way Rheumatism can ever be cured and it is the Uric-O way. Most druggists sell Uric-O, but if you want to test it, cut out this notice and mail it today, with your name and address and the name of your druggist, to The Smith Drug Co., 229 Smith Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y., and they will give you through your druggist a full-sized 75c. bottle free.

Uric-O is sold and personally recommended in Belfast by R. H. Moody.

Gov. Burleigh is doing his full share of this preparatory work, which will probably occupy him more or less for the next two or three weeks. Like his three colleagues from Maine he has been rather fortunate during the winter of a do-nothing Congress in having considerable committee work to look after, for members generally do not like to loaf through a session of Congress.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN.

BELFAST FREE LIBRARY, Belfast, Me., Feb. 28, 1908.

To the Trustees of the Belfast Free Library, Gentlemen: I have the honor to submit the twentieth annual report of the Belfast Free Library.

It gives me pleasure to record the statistics of circulation for the year, as our figures show a remarkable increase, being 27,801 to be compared with 25,361, the number of books loaned 1906-7, until now the record year. The largest circulation for a day was 283 books, Jan. 18, 1908, which was the second largest in the history of the library, March 3, 1906, being 267. It is interesting to note that January, 1908, had the largest circulation of any month since the library was established, 2759.

The "Home Libraries" give books to many people who cannot come to the library to exchange them. At present there are five of these branch libraries, in charge of Mrs. W. W. Merrill at the Head of the Tide, Mrs. E. O. Pendleton on Searspoint avenue, Mrs. Leslie P. Miller, Belmont avenue, Mrs. W. A. Monroe, Poor's Mills, and Mrs. William C. Vose, Northport avenue. The total number of books loaned through the kindness of these ladies is 1,415.

Following is the classified report of the circulation for the year:

Fiction	17,551
Juvenile	3,255
Periodicals	2,348
Philosophy and Religion	313
Sociology	122
Natural Science	364
Arts: Useful and Fine	1,245
General Literature	864
Travel	327
Biography	327
History	572
	27,801

The proportion of adult fiction is 65 1-2 per cent.

During the past year 325 volumes have been acquired by gift and purchase, making the last number in the accession book 14,370, which indicates the number of volumes placed in the library since it was first opened in 1888. By deducting 1,120, the total number of volumes worn out and withdrawn, the actual number of volumes is 13,244.

Sources of accessions for 1907-8:

By purchase from the Wilson fund	389
By purchase from the Otis fund	63
By binding periodicals	34
Gifts from individuals	9
Gifts from the U. S. Government and Maine	28
Gifts from the Canadian Government	2

Several sets of valuable reference books are included in the purchases of this year. The International Encyclopedia of twenty-one volumes, which is the most important, is much appreciated. Other sets deserving special mention are The History of All Nations, twenty-four volumes, the Burton Holmes Lectures, 10 volumes, Isaac's English Men of Letters series to complete the set, besides many two volume biographies of great interest and value.

The books added have been classified as follows:

Fiction	146
Juvenile	26
Periodicals	31
Encyclopedia	21
Philosophy and Religion	15
Sociology	18
Natural Science	38
Arts: Useful and Fine	34

CARE OF THE BOOKS.

Books repaired at the library	2168
Books rebound at Boston bindery	57
Books withdrawn from circulation	20
Books missing or lost	6
	2251

In taking the annual account of the books six were missing. Two of these are fiction, three, juvenile books on electricity, and one called "Woodcraft." It is fortunate that all are of little value.

Since September, 1905, 1520 persons have received book cards. By our system of renewing registrations every two years, we are able to estimate the number of cards in actual use, which we find for February 28, 1908, to be 1,018.

The portrait of Mrs. Paul R. Hazeltine, recently received, is one of our most valued possessions. When hung, it will give an air of added distinction to the reading room decoration and the personality of the donor of the library and his home life. It was most appropriate that Mr. Hazeltine should present it to the library.

I am glad for an opportunity to express my sincere appreciation of the work of my predecessor, Miss Elizabeth M. Pond.

To her ability and energy in the success of the library in all its departments, and the compliment was to her, when one of the leading educators of Maine made the statement that the Belfast Free Library is considered one of the best in the State.

My thanks are especially given to my efficient assistant librarian, Miss Grace H. Hall, who has heartily co-operated in every plan for the pleasure or benefit of library patrons.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNIE LEONORA BARR.

The Republican Journal

BELFAST, THURSDAY, MARCH 26, 1908.

Published Every Thursday by the Republican Journal Publishing Co.CHARLES A. PILSBURY, Editor and Business Manager.Copper is dull and diamonds are down.C. W. Morse is making a plucky fight against bankruptcy and to retrieve his fortunes.A member of the Lewiston board of assessors, who had a year more to serve,
has resigned because he did not care to serve with inexperienced members.C. F. King of Boston, who posed as the friend, protector and adviser of the innocent investor; who quoted Scripture in his advertisements and threw out alluring bait to catch the savings of the people, proves to be simply a common swindler and is now a fugitive from justice.Hon. Bert M. Fernald of Poland in a interview published by the Portland Express, says: "Resubmission as an issue is dead. The sentiment for it is weakening very rapidly throughout the State, and even in those quarters where it has been most strongly championed, it will soon be extinct. I doubt if it will be even considered as a possible
issue in the convention." Hon. L. M.
Staples of Washington came to that conclusion some weeks ago and said in an interview that the campaign should be fought on other issues.We received a letter last week just before going to press from Mr. Francis H.
Welch, who is located in Hillsdale,
Mich., enquiring as to whether the reported "deficiency of $554,57," referred to in the recent campaign, was intended to reflect upon the action or integrity of the finance committee of 1895-6, of which committee Mr. Welch was chairman.
We can say that we have never heard the integrity of Mr. Welch questioned in this or any other matter, nor can any one question the integrity of Mr.
James Patten, the city treasurer at that time. The books do show a deficiency, however, which as yet is unaccounted for.The Belfast correspondent of an out-of-town paper announced last week
that the city council had elected A. J.
Knowlton as superintendent of schools.
We supposed that every one knew that the city council has nothing whatever to do with the election of a school superintendent, but find there is considerable talk about the matter. It was simply an error of the reporter in question. The city council did not elect or attempt to elect this official. The school committee is an independent body, elected by the people, and has sole jurisdiction in all school matters.
Politics have never entered into its choice of superintendent, teachers or judicials; and not until this year, we believe, was an attempt ever made to bring politics into school affairs.Readers of Frank W. Gowen's interesting series, "Along Arnold's Trail," in which Aaron Burr figures to some extent, may like to know that Burr, who has been the subject of so many controversies, has another defender in Alfred Henry Lewis, who in a recently published book, "An American Patrician, or the Story of Aaron Burr," pictures him as a great soldier, a great Statesman and the highest type of the gentleman, and it is all done in such a plausible way that it seems like an accurate and straightforward story of Burr. The pedestal upon which is set the man who aspired to be Aaron I. of Mexico is made higher by attacks upon everyone else, from Washington and Jefferson downwards. Charles Felton Pildgin is the author of two books in this line, one dealing with Burr, and the other with his daughter, Theodosia.The overhauling of the Fitzgerald regime in Boston continues, with startling exposures of rottenness in the Democratic administration of the affairs of that city. One Thomas F.
Curley was promised an important office for carrying ward 17, but when the time came to deliver the goods his record was found to be such that his appointment was not expedient and he was given a stone crusher instead. As the Boston Transcript says: "When asked for bread the mayor did not give him a stone, but a stone-crusher, an entirely different affair." Then Curley gave the crusher to a reputable contractor named O'Connell, who did the work, but by written agreement, divided the profits with Mr. Curley. A deduction of $2800 for political expenses,
from the gross profits, was first made before the division between O'Connell and Curley No. 1 was effected. Then Mr. Curley to the half of the net profits
this received added the aldermanic salary of James M. Curley, and the new total was divided between the two Cur-leys as the net proceeds of the whole transaction. O'Connell gave up the job for some reason and the Curleys found a contractor named Mahan, who entered into an agreement with them on a basis of leaving them sixty per cent of the profits. Even this was a very liberal allowance on their part, since Mr. Mahan has testified that he would have been glad to take the crusher contract for twenty per cent of the profits.Bryan has evidently come into full possession of the Democratic organization, after twice leading that party to defeat. But, as a writer in the New York Sun says:Mr. Bryan, measured by the tenets of Democracy that governed the party before the days of 1896, when the Nebraska Populist captured the Democratic convention at Chicago by a speech of sound and fury, is not a Democrat. If he were honest he would say he was a Populist;
that he believes in a strong centralized government, a paternal government, and the annihilation of State rights. But he is not honest, and his kaleidoscopic record proves that he is not honest.

business in Searsport, has moved his family
there and will make that place his residence.Bert Stimpson, as he was known to everybody in Brooks, and a life long resident of the town, died at his home on the Monroe road last week. He was over 60 years of age and had never married.The Good Templar society of District Lodge was a pleasant and harmonious meeting. Many matters of interest to the order were discussed and plans for the future outlined. The ladies of the local lodge furnished a nice dinner and general sociability reigned.March 28th (Mr. Ernest M. Jacobs will present his play, "Just Plain Folks," at Union Hall. It will doubtless be well attended for it is an original production by Mr. Jacobs, a native of this town, who has gained some standing as an actor under the stage name of Chas. K. Channing.The Ezra Patten place in Monroehas been sold to Mrs. Lucie M. Crowell of Pittsfield.
For two generations the place had been held by the Patten family and the final dissolution of the home associations is pathetic.
It is one of the typical New England homes
which, prosperous in the hands of the proprietor at his death, passes from the family name. Connected with the farm is a valuable wood and lumber lot, which no doubt had much to do with the sale of the place.In another column appears an obituary of Cyrus Roberts, long time a resident of Brooks and well remembered by many of our older citizens. As a boy he lived with his parents in West Brooks on the Sprout hill road, so-called. The old home buildings, now a part of which now remain, not even the outlines of the cellar, were on what is now a part of the Benjamin Ham place, next to the John M. Dow homestead on the east side of the road. His brotherJohn moved to Aroostook county, where he died. His sister Caroline also went to Aroostook, where she married and had a family. Later she went to Lawrence, Mass., where she cared for the said Cyrus for several years previous to his death, his wife having died some years ago leaving no issue. Mr. Roberts made it a custom to visit Maine nearly every season, usually to attend the reunion of his regiment, the old 4th Maine Volunteers, the last time being some two years ago, and so he was kept in remembrance by the Brooks people.Poley's Orino Laxative is sold under a

The Shoe Situation.

Inactivity continues in the New England footwear industry, factories running on short time, as a rule. Many cities report an output of 40 per cent. full capacity, and shippers through the country are about 25 per cent below a year ago. Demand is irregular, good sales being reported of colored calf goods, not only in the East, but at all leading shoe centers. Best news is received from Chicago and St. Louis, where liberal orders are received for future delivery.
Some increase is reported in the local jobbing trade in spring lines.—Dun's Review, March 21st.

An Unusual Real Estate Issue

will be the April 4th edition of the Boston Evening Transcript. Any one having a farm, house, cottage or camp to dispose of,
or which they desire to rent for the summer, should advertise in that edition as it will be widely circulated among hundreds of persons who are searching for such properties. It is a well known fact that the Boston Transcript publishes each season more advertisements of summer places for rent than any other newspaper in America.
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moody, of Gladys Skidmore will not attend the spring term at the Castine Normal school as announced in this column last week. Edward Cain of Palermo was the guest of his sister, Mrs.
C. R. Nelson, last week. Will Jones of Palermo was in town two days last week.
There is an unusual lot of sickness in our town at the present time and our local doctor has been kept busy every day, and many night calls. Later reports received from California say that Fred Holbrook of this town, who was reported in last week's Journal as being in a hospital, is all right again and is at work. Next Sunday is the fifth Sunday in the month and there will be services at the church at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30

FARMERS' WEEK AT U. OF M.

Of the 370 who registered at Farmers'
Week at the Agricultural College at Orono, March 9th to 13th, 179 were men and 191 women. The large number of women is somewhat surprising and also gratifying.
This was the first time the university has offered anything along the line of home economy and domestic science and the interest shown was certainly gratifying. The men who attended numbered this year 179, against 114 of last year, an increase of 55.7 per cent. Interest ran high from the first until the last session. There were but two countries that failed to register an attendant.
The age of the men registering ranged from 13 years, an interested youth from Aroostook county as the youngest, and 76 years as the oldest farmer present. The average age of the farmers attending was 45 years.
There were eight registered who were under 20 years of age; 19 between 20 and 70

and expels the cold from your system. Re-lowing the use of Hyomei, that it has been publicly recommended by leading druggists and physicians in nearly every State and town in the country, with the result that last year's sales were larger than ever.The fact that Hyomei is so simple and complete, and that it cures catarrh by breathing medicated air and not taking drugs into the stomach, no doubt has helped to create this widespread and rapidly increasing army of friends.You do not risk a penny in testing the healing powers of Hyomei, for A. A.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease
that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure.

They have the sympathy of all the members. Mr. Carl Cole is at home on leave.

The obituary of Miss Martha Hazeltine, which appears in another column, has been written: "There are yet many who know and will remember her. She was a wonderful woman in many ways. Her father's family of nine lived to 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100. She was a typical New England woman of long ago—bright, helpful, forceful and wise."

The Opera House will be well worth a visit this afternoon, as an attractive social place will be a new feature. In room No. 1 of the Opera House will be displayed. In room No. 2 will be fancy articles and an interesting "remembrance table." In room No. 3, small fancy baskets and quaint little Dutch novelties will attract not only the Dutch, but older folks as well. In room 4, the cream will be served and china, rames and candy will be for sale. Other attractive features will be a Larkin booth and a K. A. booth. Dutch maids will be served with supper, and patrons should be supplied with pennies, nickels and dimes. The sewing school under the auspices of the W. C. T. Alliance, which recently closed, was the most successful of any previous one. Two hundred and fifteen yards of cloth were made into garments for the children. The material was generously given by many kind-hearted people, for which the committee are very thankful. The whole number registered was 45; average attendance 26. At the closing session the children were given a treat of sandwiches, cake, home-made candy, peanuts and apples. Great credit is due to Miss Carrie M. Cutter, who has worked untiringly for the success of the school, and also to Mrs. Freeman Cook, who proved an excellent teacher.

Two of the prettiest parties of the season were given by Mrs. Charles Walden at her charming Main street home Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 18th and 19th. Pussies willows in profusion, with potted plants and cut flowers, made charming decorations, and supper was served on small tables to about forty guests each evening. The hostess was assisted in serving the dainty menu by a number of her personal friends. Bridge was played, and Wednesday evening the prizes were won as follows: first, a Venetian glass bon bon dish, Mrs. Amos Clement; second, a fancy silk bag, Miss Annie L. Barr; third, silk work bag, Mrs. C. O. Poor. Thursday evening the lucky ones were Mrs. Ralph H. Howes, who won the first prize, a brass jardiniere with fern, and Mrs. William Crosby, who won the second, a Haviland cup and saucer. Mrs. Francine Richards and Miss Hattie White were consoled by a pretty bodkin bag and a bouquet of carnations, respectively.

TO OUR FRIENDS, THE CITIZENS OF BELFAST: The members of Belfast Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1, wish to announce that in accordance with their annual custom they have made arrangements for a Grand Concert and Ball, and wishing to assure social and financial success have engaged the "Seaside Singers" as a concert attraction. This organization is one of the best in the country, and no connection with the similar company which appeared here recently. It has been customary to hold the annual ball in March, but as the "Seaside Singers" were booked for the entire month, it will be given at the Belfast Opera House Thursday evening, April 2nd. The Hook and Ladder Co. has never, since its organization, solicited food, but has depended on the sale of tickets and drawing of prizes, for revenue. For some years the members have wished to do away with the latter feature, and as recent developments have made this course imperative, the financial success of the ball will depend solely on the sale of concert and dance tickets, and the company has no doubt that our citizens, appreciating the circumstances of the case, will respond liberally. Considering the undoubted merit of the attraction offered and the reasonable price of fifty cents per ticket, the company feels assured that the public will receive full value for the money expended and also enjoy the ball, for which good music will be furnished.—Committee Belfast Hook & Ladder Co.

A SUCCESSFUL CONCERT AND DANCE. The Colby College Musical Clubs, under the auspices of the Belfast W. M. A., appeared in the Opera House, Wednesday, March 18th. The clubs are managed by L. C. Gupitt, who in the absence of Mr. Dow, the reader, recited several humorous selections to the delight of his audience. Mr. J. C. Richardson, soloist, was also absent. HIS 90TH BIRTHDAY. A number of his relatives from Belfast were in Seaside Sunday, March 22nd, to attend a most interesting event—the 90th anniversary of the birth of Jacob Hartshorn Eames. Mr. Eames, whose father was one of the early settlers in Swanville, now lives with his son, Charles Eames, on the home place in Seaside. He retains his faculties in a most remarkable degree, is interested in the questions of the day, and performs light manual labor. His is a most interesting and remarkable personality, and he is the only survivor of a family of seven. Of his four children two live in Seaside—the son with whom he makes his home, and Mrs. Caroline Rice. His son, Capt. George Eames, resides in Seattle, Wash., and his daughter, Mrs. Mary Morse, in Presque Isle. Sixteen members of the family sat down to a delicious dinner, prepared by Mrs. Charles Eames, and the afternoon was spent socially, with the guest of honor, who joined in the conversation, as the center of interest. Mrs. Caroline Rice presented her father with a fine birthday cake, and during the day Mr. Eames received a large number of congratulatory calls from neighbors and friends, and the many gifts testified to the respect and esteem in which he is held by all who know him. During the afternoon, letters were read from the absent ones in the family circle. One was from his only grandson, Dr. James William Rice of Boston. Mr. Eames is a member of the Congregational church of Seaside, has been a school teacher and a member of the school committee, and is well and favorably known by his fellow townsmen, former pupils and many others. He has eight great, great nephews and nieces, some of whom were present. His nephew, George O. Holmes and family, and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Leavitt and family were present from Belfast. Mrs. Leavitt is a grand niece

The Taking Cold Habit

The old cold goes; a new one quickly comes. It's the story of a weak throat, weak lungs, a tendency to consumption. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral breaks up the taking-cold habit. It strengthens, soothes, heals. Ask your doctor about it.

It is known who stole the punch from the piazza of Mr. A. S. Heal's house on Cedar street Tuesday evening and later took it to a restaurant and made it the leading feature of a lunch. Miss Marian Heal was entertaining a party of her young friends when this contemptible trick took place. The punishment of the offenders is in contemplation, as this is not the first offense.

The Acme Concert Company, which will play in Bucksport at Emery Hall Friday evening for the benefit of the October Club of that town, have chartered the steamer Castine to take them to Bucksport and will have a large party of friends on the trip. Judging from the advance sale the company will be greeted by a large house in the old Jed Prouty town.

The Augusta correspondent of the Waterville Sentinel reports that "Joseph Smith, formerly of Belfast, an inmate of the Maine Insane Asylum, escaped from that institution Tuesday forenoon while at work in the fire room. It is thought that he will be located within a short time at either Rockland or Belfast. Smith has been an inmate of the institution off and on for the past 15 years."

The Schuman-Jeink recital in Bangor on April 2nd will draw many patrons from this city. Mr. Dickey has already arranged for some twenty patrons who will go to Bangor on the rail excursion he has arranged, and with the low rates for excursion tickets, hotel fare and the concert tickets, those who desire to hear the best contralto soloist the world has to offer, should arrange with Mr. Dickey at once. Every attention will be given the patrons.

HOME FOR VACATIONS. The end of this week will see many of the young people at home from school and college. Miss Marian Hazeltine, Smith, '11, arrived last night, and will be accompanied by her room-mate at the Mt. Ida School, West Newton, Miss Lee, of Kansas City, Mo. Miss Elizabeth A. Quimby and Miss Cora S. Morison, Wellesley, '09, will arrive either Friday night or Saturday morning, accompanied by Miss Ethlyn Baskett of Hannibal, Miss, who will be Miss Morison's guest during the vacation. Miss Alice P. Poor, Wellesley, '08, will spend the vacation with her sister, Mrs. Hugh D. McLellan in Cambridge. The New England Conservatory of Music, where Miss Katherine C. Quimby and Miss Ethola W. Frost are students, does not give a recess until the middle of April. Miss Helen Doak will spend the brief recess from the Rhode Island School of Design, in Providence. The Colby students arrived last week, and the University of Maine young people will be at home early next week.

They have started a few patterns at 3 cents, which price is special, and some remnant lots at almost your own price. In the regular goods 5, 6 and 8 cents and up are the figures. They carry the books of the three largest dealers in the country and give a liberal discount from their lists. The City National Bank of Belfast pays 4 per cent on savings accounts, compounded semi-annually. New shirt waists at The Fashion, High street. Free examination of eye-sight by E. Laurence Williams, D. O., 18 Spring street. Annual meeting of the incorporators of the Belfast Savings Bank at 10 a. m., April 8th. Johnson, Masonic Temple, has the new spring styles in the celebrated "Kenyon" rain coats at prices from $10 to $25. Webber, Bell street, will begin her spring opening of suits and separate coats and rain coats today, Thursday, to continue through the spring months. R. N. Pendleton, Hewes' Point, Islesboro, has a pair of good work horses for sale.

PARLOR MUSICAL SOCIETY. The evening with German composers was much enjoyed by the members of the Parlor Musical society and their friends at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Pitcher, Tuesday. Miss Amy E. Stoddard was the pianist for the evening, and the fine program she had arranged was given as published in last week's Journal, with the addition of a piano solo by Miss Carrie M. Greenlaw. Mr. Rossbach's paper, in which he took up the lives of the German composers on the program, was most interesting and he held the closest attention of his audience. The piano quartette by Miss Gladys Pitcher, Mrs. H. L. Whitten, Miss Louise Dennett and Miss Lella Howard was most skillfully executed. Miss Bird's solo, Schubert's Serenade, was finely rendered, and her encore was a dainty little song, entitled, "Julia's Garden." Miss Amy E. Stoddard and Miss Marie Sholes played Mozart's Minuet from Symphony in E flat delightfully, and Miss Clara B. Marsh's whistling solo, Largo from Xerxes, by Handel, gave great pleasure to her listeners, as usual. She responded to a hearty encore. Miss Pitcher's piano solo, Fantasia in C minor, by Bach, was brilliantly played. Mr. John Parker's solo, "Un der Wesser," and the encore he gave, were one of the best features of the program, which closed with a piano solo, The Avalanche, by Keller, played with much skill by Miss Carrie M. Greenlaw. Miss Stoddard was the accompanist for the evening. Not the least enjoyable feature of the evening was the social hour which followed the program, and the rendering, by request, of "Crossing the Bar" by Mr. Parker, and "Evening Star," by Mr. E. S. Pitcher.

Son Wm. Jones, from New York, is discharging a cargo of steam and gas coal for the Belfast Gas & Electric Co. at the Belfast Fuel & Hay Co. wharf.

THE SHOE FACTORY. The report that the shoe factory is to be shut down indefinitely, and the later report that Leonard & Barrows have sold out to W. L. Douglass, we have reason to believe are utterly without foundation. It is a dull time in the shoe business all over the country. Jobs and retailers have been buying for some time on a limited scale, and as people must have footwear, no matter what the conditions of business, the stocks on hand must soon be exhausted, and then rush orders will follow. Some of the Massachusetts factories are shut down altogether, others are working on short time, and the factory here is doing more in proportion to its capacity than the majority. There is every reason to feel confident that the shoe business will soon start up.

WINTER PORT.

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. Ella McKenney March 17th with a large attendance. A voluntary offering was contributed by the members to help defray the expenses of keeping the State Hermitage open at Portland. Two gentlemen joined the Union as honorary members. After the business of the meeting was over Madam Willard read a fine chapter from "The Pride of Life." The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Albert George, April 7th. The reading for this meeting will be from a series of articles on hereditary. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Moody returned Wednesday from a business trip to Boston. Miss Edith Atwood of Boston is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Joseph Moody. Mr. Carroll J. Clark of Bucksport is the guest of Dr. J. H. Baker. Mrs. M. F. Haley returned home Thursday from Hartford, Conn., and Boston, where she had spent the winter. The Primary and Grammar schools began Monday after four weeks vacation, with a change of teachers in the Primary schools. Mrs. Flora Marden of Prospect was assigned to the upper village primary and Miss Lottie Thompson to the lower. Capt. John Philbrick left on the steamer Bay State Monday to join his vessel in New York. Mrs. Philbrook accompanied Capt. Philbrook to New York. Mrs. Philbrook's son is at home from Millinocket, where she spent several weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barlow. Mrs. Philbrook is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William McNulty, in Boston. Miss Clara Atwood has been quite ill with an abscess in her throat at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Kennedy in Boston. Charles Carleton is at home from Bangor Theological Seminary for a vacation. Ernest Boyington came home from Boston last week, where he had been visiting relatives. Capt. O. C. Clifford has been confined to his home about eight weeks by illness, which at times has been serious. His friends will be glad to learn that he is improving and able to be around the house. Mrs. A. H. Hall and daughter, Miss Etta, are improving, after a long siege of the grip. There will be a mothers' meeting at the home of Mrs. H. J. Webber Thursday for the purpose of organizing a Mothers' Club. Mr. and Mrs. James Fraser of Easton are the guests of Capt. and Mrs. O. C. Clifford. Mr. James Knox has sold his house to Mr. J. E. Darling and has bought the George Blake house. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a ten-pound boy, Clifford Wilbert.

[A Personal Home Letter.]

FAIRFAX, Va., March 9, 1908. While in Norfolk we had an invitation to go out and spend two weeks at Mrs. Rowan's farm, after which we shall go to Washington, D. C., for two weeks, then to Philadelphia for a week, and then start for home and probably will stop over a week or ten days in New York and Boston. We are now at Mrs. Rowan's farm at Fairfax Courthouse, Fairfax county, Va., 150 miles from Norfolk, up among the pine woods. The hunting and fishing is said to be as good hereabouts as at any place in Virginia. Possums, coons, quail, wild turkeys, rabbits and squirrels are the most plentiful. It has been very pleasant here. Every day has been just like summer. Mrs. R. is clearing up a large tract of land. She has a sawmill on the farm and a crew of men, mostly negroes, is sawing lumber, hauling logs and cord wood, burning brush, plowing, planting and setting fruit trees and grape vines, all at the same time.

The trees are mostly oak, chestnut and pine. I walked out on one yesterday that had been cut down that was 4 feet through at the butt, and many of them are more than 100 feet high. They have 150 cords of slabs sawed into stove wood in one pile. The colored people working here are a happy lot, always whistling and singing. Dick is all the time singing:

I ain't got no razor,
I ain't got no gun,
I ain't got no woman
And I don't want none.

Fairfax county, as the natives say: "Sure is right smart rich in antiquity and legends." Fairfax is the county seat and around it cluster many historical associations. In the clerk's office we saw the last will and testament of the first President of the United States; also papers signed by Henry Clay and Patrick Henry, and in the time-worn and dust-stained volumes can be found many interesting records of Washington's time.

On the beautiful courthouse green stands the old courthouse, built in 1800, and near it is the old well over which hangs the old oaken bucket with the tradition "that he who drinks here will live to return and drink again." A short distance away stands a gray granite monument commemorating the fact that in a nearby opening was killed the first soldier of the civil war. On the hills and the valleys hereabout can be found many evidences of the great conflict of the early sixties.

Situated midway between the extremes of heat and cold, Fairfax is a happy medium alike to those scorched by southern suns or chilled by northern winds. The financial condition of the county is excellent. There is no bonded indebtedness, the tax rate is 1-10 on the assessed valuation, which is usually one third of the real valuation.

Fairfax county was founded in 1742, and was named in honor of Lord Fairfax. There is much in the records of the court of Fairfax county to interest the antiquarian. In the old times the court fixed the rates to be charged for about everything. The rates the innkeepers were to charge was fixed by the court and had to be posted at least 6 feet high on the door of every inn in the county. The following is from the schedule of rates ordered by the court March 20, 1755:

For a hot diet with small beer or cider, 1s.
For a cold diet, 6d.
For a gill of rum made into punch with loaf sugar, 6d.
For ditto with brown sugar, 3d.
Stabling and fodder for horses 24 hours, 6d.
For a night's lodging with clean sheets, 4d; otherwise, nothing.

Among the early settlers of Fairfax county were men who by their sturdy good sense and strength of character not only left a lasting influence for good on the county in which they built their primitive houses, but men who bore a conspicuous and important part in the making of the State and Nation. George Washington, the true patriot, the brave soldier, the wise statesman and model citizen, settled in Fairfax county in his early manhood. General Fitzhugh Lee was born in Fairfax county, the son of Commodore Lee and grandson of Light Horse Harry Lee of Revolutionary fame. Long before the prow of the frail bark that bore Capt. John Smith and his companions up the broad Potomac had ever touched the Fairfax shore an Indian trail 230 miles long, extending from the tide waters of the Chesapeake to the valleys beyond the mountains was visible. Starting in the vicinity of Williamsburg, it crossed Occoquan at Colchester into Fairfax.

The main highway from Colchester to Alexandria is known as the Braddock road. These roads are known as rolling roads. This designation arose from the practice of transporting the tobacco to the various shipping points in the hogheads in which it was packed. A wooden pin was driven into each head to which was adjusted a rude pair of shafts, and thus in the way of a garden roller it was drawn to its destination. Even the great thoroughfare from Alexandria to Williamsburg was known as a rolling road. This was the most famous of all the roads of the thirteen original colonies. When the first settlers set out to enlarge their domain it was over this road they came. They cleared and widened it, made its rough places smooth and the crooked places straight. The streams, then of greater volume than now, were either bridged or ferried, and as the tide of immigration swelled the ancient Indian trail became not only a way but a highway for the people.

Nowhere is a road so intimately connected with the stirring events that served as fitting preludes to the birth of a great nation. Over it as a boy of 4 years, in company with his father and mother, brother and sister, Washington was brought from the old home in

WALDO DISTRICT LODGE, G. I.

The annual session of Waldo District Lodge convened with Brooks Lodge, No. 34, Saturday, March 14th, and was presided over by District Chief Templar E. C. Boody. Only one member of the District Council was absent. All the others responded to the roll.

The order of exercises as given in the call was carried out and the following officers were installed by Past Grand Chief Templar M. J. Dow, with Lila Estes and Hattie Work as Marshals: Dist. Chief Templar, E. C. Boody; Dist. Vice, Miss Mabel Rose; Dist. Counselor, Mrs. Emma Huxford; Dist. Sec'y., Mrs. E. L. Brackett; Dist. Treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Dow; Dist. Supt., J. T. Mrs. Belle Estes; District Chaplain, Miss Lora Maxey; Electoral Supt., M. J. Dow; Dist. Marshal, Will R. Lane; Dist. Guard, Mrs. Isabelle Morse; Dist. Messenger, J. E. Stimpson.

The delegates to the Grand Lodge are M. J. Dow, Geo. E. Brackett and J. B. McTaggart; alternates, F. H. Brown, Mrs. E. L. Brackett and Mrs. Isabelle Morse. Among the resolutions submitted by the committee and unanimously adopted were the following:

Resolved, That we much regret the decrease in the former large number of lodges and membership in Waldo County and we earnestly urge upon all members of the Order the importance of holding together, in efficient working condition, this temperance organization which has for over one half a century exerted a powerful influence for good, not only on our own country, but throughout the entire civilized world.

Resolved, That we notice with pride and great satisfaction the forward march of Prohibition throughout the States of the south and west. Maine, the first to lead in this direction, bids fair to be left in the rear guard of the enthusiastic sweep of progress over large sections of country where a few years ago such a condition would have seemed impossible. In less than one decade prohibition will be an acknowledged national issue and will have been championed by one of the great national parties.

Resolved, That it is a source of much gratification to us in District Lodge assembled to record our high appreciation of the excellent work done by our sheriff, the Hon. Amos F. Carleton. His fidelity to the responsibilities of the exacting position in which he is placed has endeared him to the hearts of the temperance people of Waldo County and we cannot say too much in his honor.

Resolved, That we would again give our recognition of the valuable work done by Bro. Geo. E. Brackett, who gave the strength of his manhood and the best of his intellect and fine business ability to the advancement of our order and the cause which it represents. We hereby pledge ourselves to his support for any position in the Grand Lodge which he may wish to obtain.

Resolved, That we extend our sincere thanks to Brooks Lodge for their generous hospitality, always so freely given, and to the M. C. R. R. for reduced rates to delegates.

The committee on location reported Belfast as the place of the next meeting.

Good for Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system. Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50c at R. H. Moody's drug store."

RECIPE MIX D OF TEN.

Druggists Hear Much Praise for This Simple Home-Made Mixture.

Some remarkable stories are being told about town and among the country people concerning this simple home-made mixture curing Rheumatism and Kidney trouble. Here is the recipe and directions for taking: Mix by shaking well in a bottle one-half ounce Fluid Extract Sassafras, one ounce Compound Sarsaparilla, three ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Take as a dose one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

No change need be made in your usual diet, but drink plenty of good water. This mixture, writes one authority in a leading Philadelphia newspaper, has a powerful tonic effect upon the system, clearing the clogged-up pores of the eliminative tissues, forcing the kidneys to sit and strain from the blood the uric acid and other poisons which cause many of the Rheumatism, Bladder and Urinary troubles in a short while.

A New York druggist who has had hundreds of calls for this ingredients since last October stated that the people who once try it "swear by it" especially those who have Urinary and Kidney trouble and suffer with Rheumatism.

The druggists in this neighborhood say they can supply the ingredients, which are easily mixed at home. There is said to be no better cleansing agent or system tonic known, and certainly none more harmless or simple to use.

A CARD.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Cathartic fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Cures the grippe coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. R. H. Moody.

Commendation from Somerset.

Words of commendation cannot be too strong for the splendid fight made in the local campaign at Belfast by The Republican Journal. It was a campaign in which The Journal played for good government. In its usual calm, dignified and able manner, it showed to the people of the city the system of graft and dirty politics that had been a disgrace too long for the good of the municipality, demonstrating that the city could not prosper under such an administration. The high mark set by The Journal lacked only 24 votes of being reached, but "truth crushed to earth will rise again."—Somerset Reporter.

SEARS, H. H. Crie and two children of Castine visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Packard, last week. Mr. D. L. Craig is recovering from a severe attack of heart trouble. The friends of Joshua Rivers are glad to see him on the street after his hard attack of grip. Miss Mabel Burgess of West Rockport is in town. Miss Bertha Whitten of Belfast is the guest of Miss Mary Cobb. Don C. Thomas has been drawn on the traverse jury for the April term of court, and M. A. Fowler as grand juror. Dr. Adelbert Millett, A. B. Ripley and Mr. and Mrs. James Fuller went to Appleton, March 15th, to attend the funeral of Robert F. Keene. Miss Lillian Holmes is at home for a short vacation.

The report of the selectmen shows an unexpended balance of $6,097.74, and net assets of $4,921.28.

During the year $674.21 was expended on State road.

The report of Ellery Bowden Esq., superintendent of schools says: "It is a pleasure to report a continuance of the interest of parents and citizens, in the daily session of our schools," and "a willingness to work for and with the schools."

The High School has been well attended by pupils from the rural schools as well as those living in the village. It is doing excellent work. It has been listed by State Superintendent of Public Schools as an approved Secondary School. No lack of interest on the part of those who are indifferent to the needs of the town, nor any misguided individual, or misdirected idea of reducing the appropriation, and thus fail to provide the necessary sum of money required to maintain this an approved Secondary School should prevail.

There are pupils in almost every school in town who are working hard for the purpose of looking forward in happy anticipation to the time of entering this school.

Here they can receive an education which will enable them to enter life's complicated duties on an equal plane with others who are thus trained, and they will be well fitted to take up and carry successfully forward the duties and obligations of each citizen in our form of government.

It is no argument to point to men who have been eminently successful in life and say that had no such opportunities, for it is a fair inference that had they been better prepared, their achievements and their successes would have been more than they have now attained.

Our school system as a whole, the primary schools, the grammar school, the rural schools, the high school, are all in splendid condition and should be so kept and so supported and so maintained. Any change made should be a backward step should be thought of seriously."

While fighting by means of buckets of water a fire which later destroyed his farm buildings, S. K. Hinkley, aged and crippled, was killed. He was 80 years old and very active. A widow besides a sister who is an invalid, and who was removed from the house with some difficulty, survives him. The property loss was $1,500.

The report of Ellery Bowden Esq., superintendent of schools says: "It is a pleasure to report a continuance of the interest of parents and citizens, in the daily session of our schools," and "a willingness to work for and with the schools."

The High School has been well attended by pupils from the rural schools as well as those living in the village. It is doing excellent work. It has been listed by State Superintendent of Public Schools as an approved Secondary School. No lack of interest on the part of those who are indifferent to the needs of the town, nor any misguided individual, or misdirected idea of reducing the appropriation, and thus fail to provide the necessary sum of money required to maintain this an approved Secondary School should prevail.

There are pupils in almost every school in town who are working hard for the purpose of looking forward in happy anticipation to the time of entering this school.

Here they can receive an education which will enable them to enter life's complicated duties on an equal plane with others who are thus trained, and they will be well fitted to take up and carry successfully forward the duties and obligations of each citizen in our form of government.

It is no argument to point to men who have been eminently successful in life and say that had no such opportunities, for it is a fair inference that had they been better prepared, their achievements and their successes would have been more than they have now attained.

Our school system as a whole, the primary schools, the grammar school, the rural schools, the high school, are all in splendid condition and should be so kept and so supported and so maintained. Any change made should be a backward step should be thought of seriously."

Words of commendation cannot be too strong for the splendid fight made in the local campaign at Belfast by The Republican Journal. It was a campaign in which The Journal played for good government. In its usual calm, dignified and able manner, it showed to the people of the city the system of graft and dirty politics that had been a disgrace too long for the good of the municipality, demonstrating that the city could not prosper under such an administration. The high mark set by The Journal lacked only 24 votes of being reached, but "truth crushed to earth will rise again."—Somerset Reporter.
